

SATURN™

Refrigerated Pizza Prep Tables

Model Numbers: FBPT44, FBPT67, FBPT93

Saturn Refrigeration

Your restaurant relies on refrigeration 24/7. Saturn offers pizza prep units that provide optimal conditions for your perishables. These units are complete with features such as door locks, factory installed casters, and a 90° stay open door.

Features

Efficient Pizza Prep Worktop

Saturn® Pizza Prep Tables offer practical workspaces with full-length ingredient rails and full-length polyethylene cutting boards. When you combine workspace and storage space, you receive an excellent environment for preparing pizza, calzones, and salads. Each Saturn® Pizza Prep Table includes enough 1/3 size 4" deep pans to fill the ingredient rail.

Durable Design

It's no secret that stainless steel is one of the most commonly used materials in the restaurant industry. Saturn® Pizza Prep Tables feature a stainless steel exterior for a sleek design that will blend into any kitchen setting. The interior is also made of stainless steel, meaning that it's easy to clean and is also corrosion resistant. The combination of the two means that your Saturn unit will provide excellent performance day in and day out.

Easy-Access Compressor Unit

In order to extend the life of your Saturn unit, preventative maintenance and cleaning are recommended. Luckily, the front-access compressor makes this task simple because it's easy to access. This compressor unit is complete with a capillary tube system that hold product in an ideal temperature range of 33°F to 41°F.
